Why Partner with CyberMaxx?

Managed Detection & Response combined with the offensive capabilities you need for stronger security. Our modern MDR approach is unique to the industry and provides in-depth, scalable security coverage for your customers, empowering them to focus on their more critical security efforts.

Real-time Threat Response:

"Big R" response means thoroughly investigating every threat to ensure it is fully contained and remediated.

Tech-enabled MDR:

Delivered on third-party best-in-class security tech, or we can leverage your existing investments.

Deep Human Expertise:

Custom threat intelligence applied to your telemetry allows our SOC analysts to provide higher detection rates and faster, more accurate responses.

An Extension of Your Team:

Equivalent value of adding 3-5 full time security resources to your organization.

Proactive Intelligence:

Threat Hunting and Threat Research teams continually keep you ahead of attacks.

Glass Box Approach:

Access into dashboards, reports, and security events via portal and mobile app means full transparency.

Proactive Offensive Services:

Services like penetration testing, tabletop exercises, vulnerability and security configuration assessments can help identify and correct security weaknesses proactively – before they can be exploited and cause harm to your business.
